Kent County Healthy Families

All expectant parents and parents of newborns have common questions about their child's development. A new baby can be both a welcomed addition and a stressful time of family transition. Family Future's Kent County Healthy Families is a FREE program for first time mothers or mothers under the age of 25 living in Kent County. Having a new baby changes everything and Healthy Families is available to provide encouragement and information as you begin this new adventure! We are able to enroll families prenatally up until the child is 3 months old.

For more information, contact Dana Evans at devans@familyfutures.net or call (616) 855-5465.

Following lunch we'll learn about Catherine's Health Center's Walking Program from Anna Strong. Martha Ferguson will also provide an experiential presentation on Enhance Fitness, an exercise program we will be implementing in the fall. The event will take place at St. Alphonsus Parish Center. Please RSVP for lunch, and if you're interested in a massage please reserve a spot.

EncourAge®

EncourAge® connects socially isolated individuals with volunteer community members who have a passion for ending loneliness. Members will be matched based on compatible needs and mutual interests. The EncourAge® Program offers two ways to get involved and combat loneliness:

- Host: An individual who would like to receive regular phone calls or visits from a friendly, dedicated volunteer.
- Visiting Friend: Provides a link to the community and outside world for Hosts who might otherwise have very limited social interaction. Visiting Friends will meet with their Host regularly throughout the year to form a friendship and provide vital companionship.

To get started as a Host or Visiting Friend, contact Margie at encourage@spectrumhealth.org or call (616) 486-8653.

VoiceKent

VoiceKent (previously known as VoiceGR) is a community survey offered through a partnership between the Johnson Center for Philanthropy and the Kent County Health Department in 2017. The survey is designed uniquely to connect demographics with the opinions, attitudes, and perceptions of Kent County residents on topics such as ability to meet basic needs, access to healthcare, neighborhood safety, employment, education, and racism and discrimination. The primary goal of VoiceKent is to provide objective data to residents, nonprofits, governments, businesses, and other decision makers regarding the perceptions and needs of the community.

Please visit www.VoiceKent.org to take the survey and share it widely with friends and family! We are aiming to gather responses from all corners of Kent County. Let your voices be heard!
